“ Amber loved her kids more than anything. She was a great mother, no doubt about it. Always going above and beyond whenever she could for them. Amber also always loved to craft... She was so creative and talented and always had drawers full of beads and ribbon and yarn and paint and was ALWAYS crafting beautiful things. Her and I had our ups and downs, but what sister in law's don't. We grew closer as the years passed and even had our own song, Royals by Lorde. She will be greatly missed by everyone, and we will always keep her memory and presence alive so that her children will know just how special she was. We love you Amber. And we will all see you again one day.
