“ Delores became my mother when I was 13 then officially became my mother (in law) when I turned 16 and married her son. She was one of a kind. I have never met another like her and I expect I never will..I'm comforted knowing she's good now. When she died we mourned but there was a celebration in heaven over the same event.

“ So sorry for your loss! I have lots of great memories with Delores. She will always be loved by many and never forgotten.

“ While many called her grandma, I called her Dirt. One of my earliest memories after my own grandmother passed away was when I was a child, I asked Delores how old she was and with the most serious face she replied "older than dirt" from then on I never called her anything else besides Dirt. She filled many empty holes in our lives that we never thought could be filled. I will never have or want another Dirt again, she was most definitely a one of a kind. You will be missed by many but greeted by many more. Say hello to my grandma Sue for me and give her a big hug from me, mom and Kass. 🥰❤️
